

Introducing the S&P 500® Dynamic Intraday TCA Index:

A Strategic Addition to United Life's
WealthChoice Fixed Indexed Annuity

The S&P Dynamic Intraday TCA Index was designed to navigate today's dynamic market environment with agility and dependability. This crediting option brings a new dynamic growth strategy with a cap rate guaranteed for the surrender period.

What makes the S&P Dynamic Intraday TCA Index strategy unique?

15% Target Volatility:

The index's high 15% target volatility aims to deliver returns similar to the S&P 500 while providing more upside potential with a guaranteed cap rate for the contract period.

Simpler Design:

Unlike many volatility indices that include numerous asset classes, this index makes intraday adjustments to its S&P 500 exposure via S&P 500 futures.

Leverage Potential:

During periods with less than 15% volatility, this index can use leverage to achieve up to 250% exposure to the S&P 500. The average S&P 500 weighting this past year was 125%.

Flexibility:

Can reallocate in and out of the strategy each anniversary with a cap guaranteed for the entire surrender period.

Why Choose WealthChoice with the S&P Dynamic Intraday TCA Index?

The integration of this new index now provides greater control within WealthChoice, empowering you to offer clients a solution that prioritizes growth with a dependable rate guarantee.
